A Beautifully Presented, Cherished and Extended Family Home in the hamlet of Langton-By-Wragby. The village was named after Henry Langton, whose son Stephen became Archbishop of Canterbury in the early 13th century. There is the Stephen Langton Trail devised to celebrate the 800th anniversary of the sealing of the Magna Carta which leads to Lincoln where an original copy of the charter is kept plus many other countryside walks. Wragby lies about one mile away and has a good selection of Local Shops, Pubs, Leisure Centre including Swimming Pool, Doctors and a Co-Op Food Store. A greater variety of shopping and leisure services can be found in either Horncastle or Market Rasen, both under ten miles or Lincoln City under fifteen miles all having good Schooling for all ages. Wragby also hosts the annual Wragby Show and Country Fayre which again celebrates the great outdoor Lincolnshire lifestyle.
